

Everyday Heroes Recognition Award

Public Works Employees: Everyday Heroes

Thousands of men and women in Oregon provide and maintain the infrastructure and services collectively known as “public works”. Their efforts improve the quality of life for present and future generations. These public servants often serve society and the public good, every day, with quiet dedication without public recognition. The Everyday Heroes Award can be the platform to acknowledge outstanding achievement, either for the actions of a single event or a career’s worth of dedication.

Oregon APWA's "Everyday Heroes" award is not a competition. Instead, it is a recognition program for the rank and file public works employees who are identified by their peers or customers for:

- Providing good customer service (responsive, consistent, courteous)
- Making the best use of public resources (efficient, innovative)
- Helping co-workers succeed (assistance, cooperation, solution oriented)
- Being a great person to work with (friendly, respectful)

Designation Process

The Everyday Heroes Recognition Award is open to anyone from an APWA member organization. Nominees are not required to be APWA Oregon members but they must be from a member organization.

Understanding that larger agencies or consultants have independent sub-organizations, either geographically or structurally, up to two designations will be accepted from each of these self-contained units per conference.

A committee will review the designations and select candidates for recognition. Up to five Hero nominations will be acknowledged at each conference as well as being featured in the newsletters to provide additional recognition.
