Educational Seminars: Peggy Keppler

Peggy met with Cameo Management (CMSI) and there is a concern with the attendance of the upcoming "Pump Station Design" workshop from previous years. She would like to re-evaluate the courses that APWA has traditionally scheduled.

Marty Andersen suggested that the training courses should be coordinated between APWA, OLOL, T2Center, and additional agencies. Marty will head a task force with the Washington County training coordinator to come up with a plan to partner with various agencies in the future. Questions that were brought up were: What opportunities are available to figure out what our organization needs so we can match up with appropriate training. Are there redundant training courses throughout the State of Oregon?

Peggy will do an e-blast and a survey via "survey monkey" to see what courses our APWA members are attending outside of APWA courses.

The chair made a motion that Peggy work with CMSI to post-pone the Pump Station Design workshop and reschedule it sometime within the next 6 months. Hugh Kalani seconded and the Board passed the motion.

Awards Committee: Still struggling with awards. Looking for a targeted message in the form of a flyer or a tri-fold advertise to the public in a very direct way.

Presidents Report:

APWA Archives:

Hugh met with Cameo Management to evaluate what was being held in storage for APWA at the Cameo office. Huge submitted an equipment inventory list. The list includes items from the historical archives, promotional items, conference material, CEU material, Newsletters, and office equipment

APWA Scholastic Foundation:

Rick Olson – met with Marlys Amundson (Asst. Director of Development of College of Engineering) to see how APWA can get involved with Oregon State University Foundation Department.

APWA Audit: Need to coordinate a foundation audit. Peggy Keppler, Jim McLaughlin, and Marty Anderson were asked to conduct the audit during the fall conference.

New Business

Report of Nomination Committee: - Kurt Corey

The committee is currently talking with various individuals to see if they are interested in participating on the Board. The final nomination will be submitted at the next meeting.
