

Rhonda Costin
Oregon Institute of Technology

"I am a junior in the Geomatics program at Oregon Tech, working on bachelor of science degrees in geomatics-surveying and applied mathematics. I love surveying because it incorporates math with being outdoors. Some of my hobbies include distance running, skiing, and backpacking.

My classmates and professors are incredible—this profession is truly one of a kind. I got to spend last summer as a land survey intern at Hawaiian Electric Company and look forward to becoming a licensed surveyor after graduation.

Thank you Oregon APWA for your generous support of my education."

