

David Ruelas

Portland State University Lindberg Scholarship

David is currently seeking a Master of Urban & Regional Planning and Master of Science in Civil Engineering Dual Degree at Portland State University.

His interest in Public Works stems from living a portion of his childhood years through the construction of the Glenn Anderson Freeway, Interstate 105, directly behind his family home. He was the first to attend college in his family and to earn a bachelors degree. He then went on to work in the public sector where he had the opportunity to program and manage capital improvement projects for a small city. In this role, David wore many hats. His interests in public works grew, and he decided to further his education. He is fluent in Spanish and enjoys watching and playing tennis.

David M. Ruelas

Masters Candidate
Urban & Regional Planning
Civil & Environmental Engineering
Portland State University

