

Deanna Amneus

OSU (Geomatics) Scholarship

Interested in architecture but influenced by my engineering grandparents, I found my way to Oregon State University. This year I will be embarking on my fourth and possibly final year of my Civil Engineering education. Currently, I am the president of Oregon State's chapter of American Society of Civil Engineers (ASCE). I have been an officer in the club for two years and have been very involved with our Concrete Canoe team for the past three years. I have had one internship so far at the Oregon Department of Transportation in Springfield as an Inspector Intern. Every day I learn something new about construction, traffic, or highways, and I look forward to applying this practical knowledge to designing structures.
